AGRICULTURAL.

LIME IN PLANTING TREES.—One quart of lime scattered into the hole before placing the tree in its place, will assist it very much in readily growing, as well as aid its future growth.

SOAP FOR KILLING BORERS IN TREES.—S. S. Green, of East Cambridge, has made an experiment with this article. He has in his garden a white ash tree, which was full of these worms, so fatal to our fruit and ornamental trees. He covered every place on the tree which appeared to be wounded by them with common hard soap, nicely rubbed into the place where the borer seemed to have entered. During the rains of this week, the soap dissolved and penetrated to the worms, which forced them out by scores causing their death. The best remedy yet discovered for destroying those nuisances to gardens and orchards.

APPLICATION OF HEN MANURE.—"How may I safely apply hen manure to my corn?" From the careful saving and application of the "droppings of the roost," I have found that, though the product of eggs and chickens may not prove very remunerative for the outlay of feed and trouble, the addition of this item shows a very handsome balance sheet. It will pay to keep hens merely for their manure, when judiciously applied to those plants that require a vigorous and healthy start in the early part of the season. For first, in the list of such plants, I place Indian corn.

In the winter of 1854-5, I had my henery so arranged that I made an entire saving of the droppings of about forty fowls. As often as three or four bushels had accumulated, I composted it in the following manner:—With three bushels of hen manure, I mixed two bushels of thoroughly air-slacked lime, one bushel of plaster, and about four quarts of salt. I then threw it into a box, secure from the weather, and let it lie until wanted for use. In the spring, when removing it to the field, I found that I had a manure of the real guano "smell." When ready for planting I dropped in each hill a small handful, taking care to cover it lightly with earth before depositing the seed. To test its value, I left two rows in the centre of the field on which there was none applied. In the fall I topped the two rows on which I had applied no home-made guano, and two rows immediately adjoining. From the first two rows, I husked 5 3-4 bushels, from the two adjoining rows, 7 1-4 bushels. From each I threw out two bushels of corn not marketable, making a difference of 2 1-4 bushels of good sound corn. I had over one hundred rows of corn treated in the manner above stated, and any one at all expert in figures can tell the value at this trial, of the droppings of some forty fowls, after deducting the worth of lime, plaster, extra labor, &c. The whole field was alike manured from the barnyard.

EFFECTS OF CLOVER HAY ON ANIMALS.—Some late writers have taken the position that clover hay produces a most injurious effect on domestic animals, particularly horses; and that to this cause the great increase of diseased horses is to be attributed. We lately heard a farmer affirm, that he believed the introduction of clover into general cultivation the greatest curse yet inflicted on the country, and assigned as a reason for this singular opinion its effects on animals when used as a fodder. Late English writers have attributed to this kind of hay the prevalence of heaves in horses, and the great increase of other diseases that affect the respiratory organs. This is a most important subject, and should receive a full investigation. Clover is too important a plant to be discarded or condemned, except upon the most satisfactory evidence. Its value as a fertilizer and a preparative for wheat, to say nothing of its use for pasture and hay, would demand that it should not be condemned unheard. For ourselves, we have very little belief in the injurious properties assigned to clover. We have used it constantly for pasture and for hay, more than thirty years, and never, to our knowledge, has any animal suffered from it; certainly, no horse has been taken with the heaves when fed on it, or while in our possession. As hay for sheep, we have considered it unrivalled, and should have no fears that any stock would not winter well with a supply of well-cured clover hay.

And here lies, we think, the great source of objection to clover hay. It is too often imperfectly cured. To save the leaves and the heads, which are apt to fall in handling or curing, the hay is put into the barn while the large stems are full of moisture or the natural juices, and the fermentation which ensues causes the whole mass to become damp; and if not spoiled wholly, it becomes mouldy, black, and when used, raises such a dust, it is no wonder that horses and cattle are choked or their lungs destroyed. Our experience shows that clover may be perfectly cured without losing any of its valuable parts; cured so that when fed out, no more dust will be flying than from timothy or herds-grass, and we shall be slow to believe that from such hay any injury to animals ever ensues.—Ohio Valley Farmer.

TUESDAY MORN'G, MAY 19, 1857

ON THE OUTSIDE OF THIS ISSUE.—First Page—Agricultural.

☞ One of the cardinal objects which the people of the United States proposed to accomplish in the formation of their Constitution was to secure the blessings of liberty to themselves, and to their posterity. It is worthy of remark that the framers of this fundamental law of the Union, in the very outset of their undertaking, assumed the name, title and character of the people.—The men who composed the Convention holden at Philadelphia in 1787, and who were the creators of this memorable instrument, which is not only an object of reverence by this nation, but forms an object of admiration and of imitation throughout the civilized world even the cotempories of the patriots of the revolution, of these heroic statesmen who on the 4th day of July 1776 pronounced it in self evident truth that all men are created equal, and that they have been endowed by their Creator with the undeniable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Indeed many, if not all of the patriots, who at the risk of their lives, put their names to the latter instrument, were the principal promoters in the creation and adoption of the former. The men who promulgated the Declaration of Independence, considered that they were laying the foundation of a Nation's freedom, the corner stone of a temple ever sacred to liberty and when the department was completed, the same men again assembled and finished their great work, by forming a constitution, dedicating it to liberty. In the one instrument they pronounce all men free and equal, in the other they say, we, the people, have formed this Constitution to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our children. What language can be more clear and explicit. It would hardly become us to say that the men who formed our Constitution did not understand what they were about, or were unacquainted with the meaning of some of the plainest words in the English language. Had they considered that the Constitution was created only by, and for, the citizens, why not use the term. If citizens only were to be protected by it, and enjoy the benefits it confers, surely it was as easy for them to say, we the citizens, as we, the people of the United States. As Republicans then, we understand the Constitution to mean what it says, and as a part does not mean the whole, or the whole a part, we understand the Constitution to have been made by and for the people in its most comprehensive sense. Any other interpretation gives the lie to the Declaration of Independence, brands the men who formed it, as imposters and deceivers, and holds up our pretended freedom to the mocking and derision of the words.

The object and aim of the Republican party, we believe, is to carry out and accomplish the objects and aims of those who conferred upon us the great benefits we are enjoying. Under the Constitution and by virtue of its authority we propose to carry out the principles and policy of the Declaration of Independence, to extend the blessings guaranteed by the Constitution to every class of the whole people, to oppose every species of tyranny and oppression whenever it appears, in the workshop as well as on the plantation, in the army or the navy, in those who strut their brief hour in folly authority, or boldly with no authority invade their neighbor's rights. We look upon our Constitution as broad enough for all these purposes, to cover all this ground, and if there is nothing more obligatory than another upon the people who have made this Constitution for their chart of government, it is to redress the wrongs and injuries of their fellow men whenever and wherever they appear.

SUGAR BEET.—We cannot too often or too confidently recommend the cultivation of this excellent field crop. It is a great yielder, hardy, easily raised, and is superior, we think, to any vegetable growth for milch cows and fattening cattle, especially when fed raw. We have grown large quantities for our own use the past seventeen years, and can therefore speak of it practically and experimentally. One of our neighbors—a lady farmer—informs us that she made thirty pounds of butter per week from six cows in December, fed upon hay and sugar beet. She adds that the butter was fully equal to the best made in September and October in rich pasture.

The Sugar Beet does best in moderately rich, loamy soils, but will grow where any other root does. The seed should be soaked two or four days in tepid water previous to planting so as to insure its germination. If planted without first soaking, its shell is so hard it is a long time germinating.—Hence the ill success of many who do not take this into consideration.

For field cultivation the rows should be 3 feet apart, so as to admit of working easily with the cultivator among the rows. The plants when finally thinned out, should not stand nearer to each other than six inches in the row. It can be pulled and secured in the fall the same as turnips.

The best variety is the White Silesian, though the French Yellow has been so much improved lately, we are informed it has become nearly as good as the latter.—We have never found it to keep so well.

The beet requires about four pounds of seed per acre, and can be planted very rapidly in drills with a seed-sower costing about $8.—Agriculturist.

LOCAL NEWS.

☞We called yesterday on our friend J. Appleby Williams, corner of Washington Square and Thames street. Mr. W. politely allowed us to examine all his machinery for making, men, women and children on paper—and we shall hereafter undoubtedly unfold some of the mysteries of his dark room, but at present can only allude to a sewing machine which from its neatness, compactness and simplicity appears to us to be exactly the thing. We were told how much it could do in an hour, but do not dare to say for fear we shall get the figures too small. By reference to our columns it will be seen that Mr. W. keeps constantly on hand these machines for sale.

☞Mr. J. P. Newell, the talented young Newport artist, has just completed a sketch of the new and beautiful Monument, recently erected in the "Island Cemetery."—It is a perfect gem of art. Mr. N. is about taking a view of Bristol, and if it is as correct as his pictures of Newport, it will indeed prove a valuable gift for absent citizens.

☞The expenditure of a few hundred dollars, and the exercise of a little taste, would convert our sadly neglected "Mall,' into a beautiful promenade. The ground requires raising and grading; the walks have been without gravel for several years, and there is a sad need of Evergreens and Shrubs to be tastefully disposed throughout the grass plats. The residents on Washington Square, if called upon, would we are confident respond liberally towards the expense of improving this important locality, and this is just the season to execute the task. Touro Park is certainly very attractive, but the "Mall" is our first love, and we cannot easily forget an early friend.

☞We understand that Col. Charles C. Van Zandt of this city has accepted the invitation of the Aquidneck Agricultural Society to deliver their Annual Address in September next.

The Society are making great preparations for their Fair, and there will unquestionably be a very large attendance from all parts of the State.

Our friend the Col. will doubtless give them an address in his best style, and being a bachelor of rather advanced age, we especially commend to him to cultivate his views on Husbandry.

☞ We take pleasure in calling the attention of our friends to the communication of a constant reader. We are also happy to announce that the suggestion in regard to the publication of our Foreign Correspondence, is one which has already been made, and we take pleasure in being able to enrich our columns with a series of European letters from many of the cities of interest to us Americans.

☞By our advertising columns it will be seen that the Newport Musical Institute are about to give "another Grand Concert" at Aquidneck Hall. The success which this society have already met in pleasing the public generally is no less owing to their musical skill than to the good taste displayed in their arrangement to please the public eye.

☞ Alfred Smith Esq., informs us that he has made a recent sale of a part of the Purgatory farm for $1500 per acre. This does not look look as if Newport property was decreasing in value certainly.

RHODE ISLAND AT A FOREIGN COURT.—The name of William Beach Lawrence, of Newport, is mentioned in high circles in connection with a first class embassy—that to the Court of St. Petersberg being particularly referred to. Considering the scarcety of Federal honors which have been bestowed on Rhode Island, it is high time that her claims in this respect were better regarded; and as the distinguished gentleman named is known to be so well fitted for the post in question, by talent, position and antecedents, we hope that we may soon record his appointment to it.—Warren Telegraph.

"Every white man opposed to negro subordination is necessarily opposed to white equality; or, in other words, every man opposed to slavery, must, in the nature and necessity of things, be hostile to democracy, and however blindly be an enemy to liberty and the progress of free institutions."—N. Y. Day Book.

You don't say so! Why, what a perfect Solomon you must be, Mr. Day-Book!—You seem to know a dreadful sight, for one so young,—and it is to be feared you will never live to grow up. Such amazing precocity of wisdom is apt to be short-lived.—According to your theory—"Slavery," "democracy," "liberty" and "free institutions" are pretty much all of a piece. "Oh, wise and learned judge!" Here, take our hat—yea, and our boots too—and if there is any thing else you want, please to sing out!—Such a brilliant light as you are, doesn't shine on our dark world very often—that's a fact.

"SHERIFF JONES." The editor of the Manchester Mirror is informed by a friend just from Kansas, that he called upon this noted individual, on business, and found him "a gentlemanly sociable man, ready to accommodate, and displaying no border ruffian' propensities. He is largely interested in land speculations, in a company composed principally of Free State men, and seems not to object particularly to the idea of a Free State, as it would be rather advantageous to him, than otherwise, in a business point of view."

GENERAL NEWS.

[From an occasional Correspondent.]

NEW YORK, May 16th, 1857.

DEAR EDITOR:—My first thought on waking this morning, was of your spicy little sheet. Pity it was not better. Don't misunderstand me—a better thought, I mean, not a better sheet. You Editors are men of mark, in these modern times. You stand in the van of civilization and progress. The Erudite, or practical Divine, but holds the rudder of the barque of Christian civilization, the Editor notes the compass, and braves the storms. Who so bold for the truth and right, as the frank, fearless and high-minded Editor? But as there is no two men alike, as is often remarked, and as we find every variety and shade of human character, so should every spokesman for the people, have his individual characteristics brought out, and directed with concentrated power, toward that class of men, with whom he, from some innate sympathy, unseen perhaps, but no less actual and real, may become the centre of an influence which shall extend itself beyond the reach of our human vision. What a mighty Engine has the New York Tribune become, through the impetus of that hard-working and philanthropic, though as I think somewhat visionary devotee to the people, whose pen seems to eliminate a succession of fiery sparks from his big heart as he writes.

Then there is your worshipful contemporary of the Herald too, who condescends to puff a little smoke into the eyes of the little News, once in a while, either playfully or spitefully, though it has not put out its eyes, for it can see those lovely cottages, fresh with nice paint, white-wash, good new straw matting, lounges, and what not—cool and sweet enough for an eastern prince to sip his sherbert upon—at all prices from three hundred to three thousand, furnished from top to toe, with a cosy little boudoir, or parlor, all Brussels carpetted, and with a nicely polished grate and other appointments, to make a raw September day comfortable and pleasant in doors.

But those little go a begging cottages when they do happen to get a tenant or two, are exclusives,—and Mr. Herald don't like them. He and the London Times are cosmopolites, and from one great watering-place to another is but a step for them.

After all, the sensible, well-balanced, and plain spoken New York Times, is my favorite paper. It is conducted with talent, vigor and beside that, what is not to be made light of in these later times, a sound discretion.

There is one series of Editorial papers, which though not so frequent, is yet a very punctual guest in most of our houses, and of them I would speak with actual veneration. Dear youthful Editor, do you ever, or often, take one of the most quiet and leisurely half hours, which your varied, and engrossing occupation affords, to draw up your chair to the Editor's table of Harper's Magazine?—ah! there is reading for you—as full of instruction, as of gratification. A mine of well digested thought. Always a practical subject, treated practically and philosophically, and directed to the hearts and minds, of those young people of our country, who are seeking that information best calculated to make them useful, prosperous and respected.

How often do we hear that Magazine spoken of as a light work, by those people who would not take the trouble to read these articles in smaller type, which make but little show, but which are to those who can appreciate them, the very aromas of the Bouquet.

I lately asked a learned Judge, who always buys and reads this magazine, if he could inform me who were the writers, or the writer, of those admirable papers?—but he said he never read them—knew nothing about them. Only bought the Magazine to amuse an idle hour, and for the young people of the family.

Now all this about New York Editors, has strung itself out into a long digression. I say, I was thinking about you, and your velvet green Isle, and your quaint old town, and your bold daring looking fort, as we come into your fine harbor,—all you Editors, should seek to learn your affinities, and become a band of brothers indeed. Battling only for truth and right.

But there is one among you who loves the more quiet and peaceful walks of Literature and Art. He is the pearl among the brilliants, and seeks neither warfare nor display. A true Artist and wedded to his Art, and a lover of all that is beautiful in nature, he throws a halo of sunshine, love and peace over his every day work, whether it be on paper or canvass.

But do you not know my young friend, that all Editors are regarded as being themselves a part and parcel of the property they share by agreement with their subscribers—and consequently you and all your doings and havings belong to us, in a certain sense. Then why not share with us a portion of your foreign correspondence? certainly you must occasionally, if not frequently recieve a letter from the old world, that would afford entertainment to your readers.

Don't, I pray you, think me in a fault-finding mood. I'll say for one, so far, so good! But an Editor would not be in his own shoes, if he had no one to tell him something was wanting in his paper, which if he would at once supply to the letter of the directions, he would very much oblige

Capture of an American Slaver.

HORRIBLE SCENE ON BOARD.

We learn from the Kingston (Ja.) Journal that on the 16th of April, H. B. M. brig came into St. Ann's Bay, having in tow an American schooner with 373 slaves on board, from Africa bound for Cuba. The name of the schooner is not given. Great excitement prevailed at St. Ann's in consequence of this affair. It was rumored that another slaver was off the coast from Africa, and a British steamer had started in pursuit.

On boarding the schooner a horrible scene presented itself. The captives were in a most wretched condition—all of them on the verge of starvation! They were packed very closely together, and covered with vermin, and it is stated that 137 of the miserable captives had died on the voyage.

Another account says:

The slave schooner has two decks, and between the captives were packed in such a manner that they had scarcely room to move. During each day of the voyage they sat in a painful posture, eighteen inches only being allowed for each to turn in, and in a deck-room 30 fee: in length three hundred human beings were stowed away, and brought up in platoons once every day to get a small portion of fresh air. The schooner draws but six feet of water, is of great breadth, and flat-bottomed and was thus built to enable her, in case of pursuit, to run into a port where there is not much depth of water. The interpreter states that when slave-trading captains cannot escape cruisers they make their way to a particular point of land on the Cuban coast, run the vessel ashore, and leave the slaves to perish. The place alluded to is surrounded with rocks—none but flat-bottom boats can get in—and the whole of this portion of the coast is blanched with human bones.

It was ascertained through the interpreter that several vessels were left on the African coast—that they were soon to have sailed with full cargoes—that upon an average two vessels depated weekly, each with 500 to 700 slaves on board—that the trade was rapidly increasing, and that the slaves, on being landed in Cuba, were worth from $500 to $700 each.

In addition to the particulars published above, the Jamaica Journal says:

The number of the unfortunate children on board of the slaver—for few of the captives have emerged from childhood—thrown overboard from the schooner in question, is one hundred and forty, out of five hundred, with which it sailed from Kabinda, on the African coast. Of these, forty died between Cuba and St. Ann's Bay.

The fact may be relied on, for we received the information direct from the slave captain himself. The disproportion between the number of those who died between this island and Cuba, and those who fell victims to the cruel treatment they received between Africa and Cuba, shows how rapidly the destroyer was consummating his work. The run from Africa was made in fifty-three days, while the passage from Cuba to Jamaica could hardly have occupied a day; and yet we find forty dying during that one day, while the deaths during the other fifty-three days amounting only to a hundred, showing at what a fearful rate the mortality had increased. This is not to be wondered at.

The wonder is that the whole five hundred, together with the captain and his rascally crew, who were crowded into such a mere cockle shell, were not swept off, without a single survivor to tell the dreadful tale, for it struck us as marvelous, when we arrived on board the vessel, how human ingenuity could have contrived the infernal deed of stowing away so many human being in so small a space. The captives were all on deck for the purpose of being landed on our arrival, and they were literally swarmed like bees in a hive. We could not stir a step without coming in contact with one or more naked bodies.

Judge, then, what must have been their sufferings, when crowded together in the hold of so small a vessel. The hundred and forty who succumbed during the horrible middle passage, and especially the forty who died in a few hours, between Cuba and Jamaica, attest the tale of woe, which is confirmed by the emaciated and wasted forms of their more fortunate survivors, and the rush and scramble which they make for their food, when the time of meals arrives. —N. O. Delta.

AGRICULTURE COLLEGE IN MICHIGAN.—The State of Michigan has established a College of Agriculture, on a farm of seven hundred fertile acres, near the new City of Lansing, where the state Capitol is located. Joseph R. Williams, formerly of this city, late Editor of the Toledo Blade, is President. It has an endowment of $56,000, the proceeds of the Salt Spring lands originally donated to Michigan Territory by the federal Government. The Legislature has appropriated $20,000 per annum for two years to support the College. There are already accomodations for eighty students. No charge is now made for tuition, but each student is required to work three hours a day for which he is paid. This we believe will be the first State Agricultural College acturally in operation in America, but Pennsylvania and our own State are preparing to follow. The Michigan College was dedicated on the 13th instant.—N. B. Mercury.

THE FRUIT CROP.—The present spring may really be a "backward" one, and a bad one for rheumatic people; but it is a most favorable one so far as regards the prospect for fruit. We learn from various parts of Delaware, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, that there is every appearance of our having the heaviest crop of peaches ever known. Of course they will be cheaper than ever. In regard to other fruits, the prospect is as favorable, or nearly so. The chilly weather of the past day or two is not likely to have caused any injury, and the young fruit may now be regarded as safe from all danger from frosts.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer has talked with a Virginia gentleman just from Kansas, whither he went with a view of inquiring into the practicability of introducing slave labor in the cultivation of that Territory, who says it was the universal conviction of all intelligent Southern gentlemen that the country was not adapted to slave labor, as there was not fuel enough in Kansas to keep the negroes from freezing; and, in his own language, if five hundred negroes were introduced into the Territory, it would take at least two hundred and fifty of them to procure wood to keep the others warm. This is the most sensible and practical idea yet heard on the subject.

ANOTHER

GRAND CONCERT.

THE Government of this Society take pleasure in announcing to the Public the third Concert of the Institute at

AQUIDNECK HALL

Friday evening, May 29th, under the direction of Mr. Eben Tourjee. The programme will contain Choroses from Mozart's celebrated 12th Mass, together with a Miscellaneous selection of Songs, Duettes, Trios, Quartettes, and Chorosses of a secular character. The hearty reception which they received at their previous Concerts have induced them to make extra efforts in preparing the present programme which they flatter themselves will be appreciated.

A full programme and further notice will be given in a few days.

Tickets 25 cents, may be obtained at the usual places.

THOMAS COGGESALL, I. N. STANLEY, W. D. SOUTHWICK, EBEN TOURJEE, AUGUSTUS FRENCH, } Governm't.

QUANTITIES of new Goods this day received from auction, by m17 PILLIPS, 176 Thames street.

CRACKERS! Crackers!!—Wm. Mason has this day received a large lot of nice crackers; fresh from the bakery, comprising the following different kinds, viz:—Soda biscuit, cold water crackers, milk do., cream sponge, do., wine do., dessert, do., walnut, do, pic nic do., pilot bread. Call and see for yourselves, at No. 4 & 5 Washington-sq. m19

CHOOLEY'S Patent Refrigerator—This Refrigerator is on an entirely new plan.—It preserves by forming a cold, dry current of air. It will keep beef without taint or mould seven days if not previously packed in ice.—It will keep fruits most liable to change in hot weather, weeks, as no mould or moisture can remain in the preserving chamber while the ice chamber is supplied. It will keep butter for any length of time fresh and hard. It will keep pure milk sweet for sixty hours. Mould must moisture or impure air will not generate in the preserving chamber, neither can the flavour of one article be imparted to another. It melts less ice than the ordinary ice-box; five pounds of ice will keep it as cold as twenty-pounds. The temperature inside when in operation will average from 38 to 48, while the outside of it may range even up to 90 or 95.

I have for sale at my ware rooms, Nos, 4 & 5 Washington Square, four different sizes for family use, and all who are in want of a genuine article are invited to call and examine them for themselves Also, the testimony of such men as J. M Lock the Chemist; Prof. E. N. Horsford, Harvard Cllege; Hon. M. P. Wilder, Boston; Daniel T. Curtis, Boston.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PROFESSOR WOOD offers for sale perfect HAIR RESTORATIVE. It in a short time restore the Hair, which ha become gray prematurely, to its original colo—bring it out where it is gone, and arresti when it is falling off—cleanse the head of dan druff and itchings—remove all cutaneous eruptions, and render the scalp perfectly healthy, by restoring the secretive organs to their original vigor and strength, and thus supply nutriment and coloring matter to the roots. It does not Dye the hair, but is, in short a perfect Hair Invigorator and Tonic.

To the young, who so much admire the beautiful locks and ringlet, he feels that he will be pardoned if he offers the advice suggested by long study and extensive observation. It is to discard all cologne and stimulating oils for the hair, and keep always upon the toilet a bottle of the Restorative for occasional use and we can safely predict, that henceforth silver locks will be upon bald heads. Let the dark eye be ever so piercing,—and the teeth be those of pearl—still, if the natural fluids be withheld from the hair, and in consequence becomes first dead and harsh, then gray, or falls off nature will be robbed of more than half its charms; as it is a sovereign remedy for those who are gray as well as those who are bald, all must see the propriety of making only such application to the hair and scalp as is calculated to preserve both in a healthy state.

From the editor of the Real Estate Advertiser No. 2 School Street.

Boston, March 20, 1855.

Prof. Wood—Dear Sir—Having become prematurely quite gray, I was induced some 6 weeks since, to make a trial of your Hair Restorative. I have used less than two bottles, but the gray hairs have disappeared; and although my hair has not fully attained its original color, yet the change is gradually going on, and I have great hopes that in a short time my hair will be as dark as formerly. I have also been much gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair, which, before was harsh and dry, and it has ceased to come out as formerly.

Respectfully yours,
D. C. M. RUPP.

Milford, Worcester Co., Mass., Nov. 13th, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir—I take pleasure in hearing voluntary testimony to the magic effects of your wonderful Hair Restorative. As far back as 1856 my hair commenced falling off until the top of my scalp became bald and smooth as glass, and it has continued to fall off for a great many years, notwithstanding I have used many celebrated preparations for its restoration. Seeing your advertisement I was induced to give your article a trial, and to my utter astonishment I found after a few applications that my hair became firmly set and assured by very glossy and beautiful appearance; and at the time I had used a quart bottle, my bald head was covered over with a young and vigorous growth of hair, which is now from one to two inches in length, and growing very fast.

Yours, truly,
HENRY GOODRICH.

Carlyle, Ill., June 27, 1856.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and as I thought permanently gray, but by the use of his Restorative, it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

Voted and Resolved, That said petition be and the same is hereby continued to the next session of the General Assembly, and that the petitioners in the mean time cause notice of the pendency of said petition to be given by causing a copy of this vote to be published in some newspaper printed in the city of Newport, for 6 weeks successively, previous to said session, and also cause a copy of said

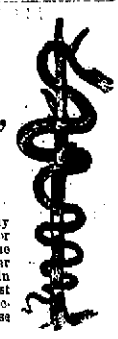
CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.



BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shewn it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, Tn., writes, 24 Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,

ORLANDO SHELBY, of SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

LOTTERIES.

LOTTERIES.—The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co., are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner.—They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co., are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mistify the buyer. Prizes vary from $10 to $50,000; every prize being drawn and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount that each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book.—Write your address plainly, and direct

S. SWAN & Co., ATLANTA GEORGIA.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential.

LOTTERIES.—The well known Mary Land Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCE & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day in the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1,00 to $20.—No tickets however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to 1000,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over. Address

METALLIC BURIAL CASE.

THE subscriber would call the attention of the public to a new and beautiful Metallic Burial Case, of form and shape to accord with the feelings of the bereaved, and furnished in imitation of polished rosewood. These Cases being made air tight, contagion is prevented, and the process of decomposition arrested for a long time. This is of great advantage when it is desirable to preserve the remains of a deceased friend for a considerable time, or to transport the same to a distant place for sepulchre, or where it is necessary to entomb for a few months before the final burial. They can be seen at our Furniture Rooms, No. 10 Franklin street. LANGLEY & BENNETT.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of PATENTS

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office; Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

NO. 76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries.—Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patens or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. Theses esides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patent granted in the United States and Europe render him able, beyond question, to offer superor facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of procuring Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17th, 1855.—During the time I have held the offie of Commisoner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse CHAS. MASON,

THE GREATEST WONDER OF THE AGE.

A REMEDY which CURES IN FIVE MINUTES.—M. LEROUX'S French Cholera Cognac Bitters. This truly wonderful scientific compound is recommended by the most eminent and learned physicians of all Europe and America, and enjoys the best reputation of anything similar ever offered. It is without doubt, the best most efficient and generally acknowledged remedy against cholera, dysentery, diarrhœa, and complaints of the stomach in general. The numerous patients who have tried it according to directions have invariably found relief in a very short time, and the best proof of it is, that since this standard remedy was introduced in the armies of the Allies in the Crimea, the mortality of the soldiers from cholera and similar diseases was diminished by over 75 per cent.; in consideration of which, the inventor was presented by the French and English governments with a gold medal, bearing the inscription, "Hail! M Leroux, the great chemist and inventor, by whose knowledge our armies are preserved from cholera."

This invaluable preparation is also a remedy for billiousness, indigestion, weakness, and general derangement of the stomach. Upon being taken, it creates appetite, and prevents the heaviness attendant upon eating by persons who are dyspeptic.

In this city, also this remedy has been tried with the most undoubted success, and the undersigned can produce the best testimonials of our most celebrated physicians, as to its immediate and complete success, which he will be happy at any time to show to any that may wish to see them.
